

NEC CONT. ED. JAZZ INFORMATION

Hi, and welcome to the NEC School of Continuing Education Jazz Department. The information given in this document should answer most, if not all of your questions about Jazz classes, Jazz lessons, and Jazz ensembles at NEC SCE. Please print out and read this document and the attached Jazz placement audition form. If you are interested in Jazz Theory, Jazz Composition and Analysis, or Jazz Arranging, please leave a message at 617-585-1130 with a FAX number or address, or e-mail dzoffer@newenglandconservatory.edu to request an e-mail of the five page Jazz Theory Placement quiz. The document you are now reading is designed to inform you about the courses offered by the NEC SCE Jazz Dept., to describe what happens during the Jazz Placement audition meeting, and to explain how to actually register and pay for Continuing Ed. Jazz classes.

The first step is to call NEC at 617-585-1130 and schedule a time for a Jazz Placement Audition. This year, the placement auditions occur on Sat., Sept 12th, from 9AM until 6:30PM. If you are not able to be present at the Sat., Sept. 12th audition, there are a limited number of slots available on Sun, Sept. 13th starting at 12PM, and Mon., Sept. 14th starting at 4PM. If you cannot be at NEC on Sept. 12th-Sept. 14th, then please leave a message for Jazz department chair David Zoffer at david.zoffer@necmusic.edu or call 617-585-1100 ext. 5709. On this message please include a call back time, name, and phone number, and your call will be returned to set up another time for the Jazz Placement audition meeting.

Any student eighteen or older (although on rare occasions we have younger students participating in the SCE), on any instrument or voice, at any level, may audition for placement in the NEC SCE Jazz Department. Students familiar with Jazz music should be prepared to play two contrasting Jazz pieces, and if they would like accompaniment, they should bring charts in concert key. Transcriptions or original compositions are acceptable, but not required. Students who have not played Jazz should be prepared to play any two contrasting pieces of their choice in whatever style of music they are currently familiar with. Drummers should bring their own sticks, brushes, cymbals, and a hi-hat clutch if they have one. NEC will provide amplification at the audition, but students may bring their own amps if they like. Electric instrumentalists must bring their own cords to the audition.

To get directions to NEC, call 617-585-1100 or check on the internet at:
<http://www.newenglandconservatory.edu/directions/index.html>

The Jazz Placement auditions will take place in room 356 in the Jordan Hall building. This building is on the corner of Huntington Ave. and Gainsborough St. Occasionally this room may get moved to 254 or another room at the last minute, but go to 356 and check for signs relating to Jazz Placement auditions.

To get to Jordan Hall room 356:

1. Enter the Jordan Hall building.
2. After the entrance, check in with the guard to sign in, then turn right at the security desk.
3. Walk down the hall.
4. Go past the large Beethoven statue on your left, and go into the elevator.

5. Take a left out of the elevator on floor three, and keep walking in that direction until room 356.

If the elevator is broken and you have to take the stairs next to the elevator, you should know that there is a Mezzanine level between the 1st and 2nd floor. Because of the Mezzanine level, the 3rd floor appears to be three floors away from the 1st floor when walking to 356. If you are not taking the elevator, walk up the stairs until you reach the top floor.

At the audition, the student should bring in the completed Jazz Placement Audition form, because the Jazz department chair will make further notes on that form, and use it to place students in private lessons, ensembles, and classes. Forms will be made available at the audition site. If you have an interest in taking Jazz Theory, Jazz Composition and Analysis, or Jazz Arranging, then bring in the completed Jazz Theory placement quiz into the audition, or pick up a quiz at the audition site and complete it before you leave. This placement quiz helps the NEC SCE Jazz Dept. to determine what the student is familiar with so that they are placed in courses with students of a similar background.

Ensemble times are not scheduled until after the Jazz placement auditions, when the department chair gathers every student's schedule availability. It is very helpful for students to be able to list the times of their scheduled weekly activities on the Jazz Placement audition form. The department chair will make every effort to make student schedules filled with as many consecutive classes as possible, and as few gaps as possible between classes. Classes start on Sat. Sept. 19th and weekday classes start Sept. 21st and have weekly meetings over the course of each fifteen-week semester. Students will be notified about Sat classes Fri. Sept. 18th, and weekday classes Sun., Sept 20th. Lessons start on Sat. Sept. 26th and have as many meetings as the student and teacher agree to over the course of the fifteen-week semester. Usually students take fifteen lessons (an hour lesson each week) or 7.5 lessons (an hour lesson every other week), but other numbers of lessons are possible at the discretion of the private teacher. Ensembles have fourteen meetings and one concert at the end of the first semester at the end of January (during second semester the concert is at the end of June). Saturday ensembles begin Sept. 26th, with notification on Fri., Sept. 25th. Weekday ensembles begin Mon., Sep. 28th with notification Sunday Sep. 27th.

Private lessons are available on all instruments and voice at all levels from professional to beginner. Composition is also possible at the student's request. Teachers and students set up a mutually convenient time to meet. Lessons can be of any length that the student and teacher mutually agree on. The department chair places all students with private teachers.

SCE students can take classes for credit or non-credit. Credit classes can be used towards completion of the SCE Jazz Certificate program (more on that later in this document), or they can be used as elective credits towards some college degrees or professional development. Once a class is registered for non-credit, it cannot be upgraded to credit status.

The private lesson rate is $97/hour for non-credit. For example, fifteen one hour, non-credit lessons would cost $97 multiplied by 15, or $1455. At this rate, a forty-five minute, non-credit lesson costs $72.75, and a 30-minute non-credit lesson costs $48.50. The credit lesson rate is $2100 for four credits which is equal to fifteen hour long lessons, $1575 for 3 credits which is equal to 11.25 hours of lesson time, or $1050 for two credits which is equal to 7.5 hours of lesson time during the semester. Each time a student registers for classes, ensembles, and/or private lessons at the beginning of the each semester, the student pays a $35 registration fee for that semester. There is no pro-rating system for classes and ensembles. Make-up private lesson policy is at the discretion of each individual teacher.

The purpose of the Jazz placement audition is not only to get to meet and hear students, but also to help the students pick which classes should be taken that year, based on level of advancement and schedule. The average NEC SCE Jazz student takes a Jazz lesson, a Jazz ensemble and/or one Jazz class each week. By reading the following course descriptions below, you will be in a more informed position to discuss class selection with the Jazz dept. chair at the end of the playing portion of the Jazz Placement audition. After all the decisions have been made about which courses are to be taken, the next step is registration. Registration includes course payment. Payment needs to be made before courses are attended.

Registration forms will be available at the Jazz placement audition. On these forms the student will list the all classes he/she is taking at NEC (not just the Jazz dept.), add up the total cost of tuition for the semester, and write a check for the full amount to New England Conservatory or pay with credit card. There will be registration desks set up in Brown Hall in the Jordan Hall building on Sat. Sept. 12th, or you can mail the registration form to NEC. After Sept. 12th, registration will take place in the Prep and Continuing Ed. Office, which is located in the St. Botolph Building on the corner of St. Botolph Street and Mass Ave. For questions about scholarship please call 617-585-1130. There is a payment plan using a credit card, and more information on that is available in the NEC SCE Catalog. The Catalog's contents are available on line at www.newenglandconservatory.edu, and printed catalogs are available from the SCE office in the St. Botolph building. Call 617-585-1130 and leave your address and NEC will mail a catalog.

Jazz Classes, Ensembles and Lessons at NEC SCE

The following classes have a more complete description in the SCE catalog. All classes will require a portable recorder. Other days and/or times are possible for the classes.

1. Jazz Theory 1-Joel Yennior-This class is recommended for students who are not familiar with basic jazz harmonic vocabulary. There is in class listening to recorded examples of Jazz theory in actual practice. Students will also learn to apply the theory concepts to their instruments. Students also compose pieces demonstrating their familiarity with Jazz theory concepts. It is important to note that very different material is covered in this class than in a classical theory class. This class will make Jazz private lesson time more effective, because the private teacher can concentrate on technique and improvisation instead spending time on building a solid theory foundation. The information covered in this class is so critical to Jazz players, that if it is not covered in a class setting, a private teacher will end up spending lesson time on it.

Year (2 semester class), 15 meetings, Mon. 6-7:30PM, (other times scheduled as needed)
non-credit $565 per semester, 1.5 credits $785 per semester

Fall: Starts Sept 21, Spring: Starts Feb 1

2. Jazz Theory 2-Rick McLaughlin-This class covers more advanced concepts than in Jazz Theory 1. The same basic format is used from Jazz Theory 1, but there is more emphasis on improvisational application and composition than in Jazz Theory 1. Students must take Jazz Theory 1 as a prerequisite or test into this class with the Jazz theory placement quiz.

Year (2 semester class), 15 meetings, Tue. 6-7:30PM, (other times scheduled as needed)
non-credit $565 per semester, 1.5 credits $785 per semester

3. Jazz Ear Training 1 -Rani Katsenelenbogen-Jazz Ear Training class sections are created by placing students with similar levels of Jazz aural skills. Placement for this class is done during the Jazz Placement auditions. Emphasis is on ear identification, vocal imitation, and rhythmic development. This class is strongly recommended for instrumentalists who need to make a stronger connection to what they hear when they improvise, instead of just playing preconceived phrases.
 Year (2 semester class), 15 meetings, Mon. 7:30-8:30PM, (other times scheduled as needed)
non-credit $375 per semester, 1 credit $525 per semester
Fall: Starts Sept 21, Spring: Starts Feb 1

4. Jazz Ear Training 2- Rani Katsenelenbogen- A continuation and expansion of Jazz Ear Training 1. Students learn how to sing Jazz voice leading lines, identify extended Jazz harmony, imitate complex rhythmic figures, transcribe complex melodies and solos, and imitate singers and instrumentalists. The class includes singing and playing of instruments.
 Prerequisite completion of Jazz Ear Training 1 or permission of the instructor.

Fall: Starts Sept 21, Spring: Starts Feb 1

5. Survey of American Jazz (Jazz History)-Rick McLaughlin- This class focuses on exposure to recordings and in class discussion of the history of Jazz from its African roots through the present day. There are listening and reading assignments. Presentations are done at the end of semesters on a live Jazz performance of the student's choice. This course is crucial, because it will help students find out which styles of Jazz inspire them, and make them informed listeners. A Jazz student must be able to tell his/her private teacher about their favorite Jazz artists or styles of Jazz, for the quickest musical growth to occur, and the jazz ensembles always draw on many eras of jazz in each semester's repertoire.
 (Year) 2 semester class, 15 meetings, Tues 5:30-6:30PM (other times possible)
non-credit $375 per semester, 1 credit $525 per semester
Fall: Starts Sept 22, Spring Starts Feb 2

6. Jazz Composition and Analysis-Rick McLaughlin - This course focuses on various techniques of composing such as motivic development, rhythmic manipulation, and reharmonization-as well as on the structure of form and phrase. Exercises and assignments stem from an in-depth analysis of important Jazz compositions and recordings.
 Prerequisite: completion or enrollment in Jazz Theory 2 or permission of the instructor.
 Fall semester only, 15 meetings, Tue. 6:30-8PM (other times scheduled as needed)
non-credit $535 per semester, 1.5 credits $750 per semester
Fall: Starts Sept 22

7. Jazz Arranging-Rick McLaughlin- This course teaches students to compose and arrange parts for a small jazz ensemble. Topics covered include Jazz notation for both rhythmic and melodic instruments; ranges and basic timbres of woodwind and brass instruments; technical limitations of instruments; writing introductions, interludes, background figures, and endings; and in class demonstrations by professional musicians.

Jazz Ensembles-coordinated by David Zoffer- These are for all instruments and voice at all levels. There are around five SCE Jazz ensembles each year. It is required for all ensemble members to take private Jazz improvisation lessons (but the teacher does not have to be NEC SCE Jazz Faculty) in order to be in a Jazz Ensemble. Studying with a Jazz teacher at NEC is beneficial, because the ensemble coaches are in constant contact with the private teachers, and they often help guide each other for benefit of their common students. The ensembles are small and all the players in the ensemble will be featured as soloists, so the students will need outside help from a private Jazz teacher in order to make the most progress. These are small ensembles usually with drums, piano, and bass, and then a few other instruments added to each group. Usually the coach of the group plays an instrument with the students. The Jazz ensembles perform once each semester for an hour recital. The material in these groups is always very wide-ranging in style in order to expose the students to the most kinds of Jazz. Student arrangements and compositions are also often included as material for ensembles. Ensembles usually are scheduled on weekday evenings and also between 12PM and 5PM on Saturday afternoons.

Two semesters (students usually continue with the same ensemble in both semesters), 14 meetings and 1 recital, 90 minutes TBA Sat. afternoon or weekday evening, 1.5 credits or non-credit $785 per semester

Fall: Sat. Ensembles Start Sep 26, Weekday Ens. Start Sep 28, Spring: Starts Feb 1

Private Lessons-coordinated by David Zoffer- These are for all ages, levels, instruments & voice. Composition, improvisation, and theory are also offered at the request of the student. See page 2 for prices. Fall: Starts Sep 27, Spring: Starts Jan 31
