Review: On first listen to Mimi Rabson's new Ambient-Fusion Jazz disc "Music", I was given a taste of a musician ready to make her mark on the world. I was blown away by her chops, one of the best violinists I've ever heard. The first track lives up to its name, and Mimi gives you only a small taste of the power she conveys throughout the CD. Mimi creates a musical journey with Music, from confusion to anger to apathy and back again. Truly worth the listen. Mimi Rabson's Music has found a new home in my CD changer, and wont be moving out for a long, long time.

Tracks : Violation, Jack Sprat and Kerouac, Sometimes, Because I Can, Seoul Phud, Craven, Marking Time, Hormonology, You've Got My Money, Why D'ya Do It, Mimi's Blues, The Next Vehicle, Heal I Self
